

Sustainable Agriculture Week Events

Toledo

Locally-Integrated Food Systems: An Opportunity for Our Future

By Mike Hamm, CS Mott professor of Sustainable Agriculture at Michigan State University
Connecting the dots between public health, economic development, community development and community-based food systems

Tuesday April 20, 7 p.m.

University of Toledo Health Science Campus
Health Education Building Room 100, Toledo
(enter from Arlington or Glendale for parking)
For more information: 419-530-3595

Columbus

Ohio Sustainable Agriculture Day

Ohio Department of Agriculture Director Robert Boggs and First Lady Frances Strickland
April 19, 2:30 p.m.

Schacht Family Farm Market
5950 Shannon Rd., Canal Winchester
For more information: communications@agri.ohio.gov

Live From the Green Carpet: Featuring Stars of Local Food

Heart of Ohio Foodshed Connection

April 21, 3:30 -6:30 p.m.

Lancaster River Valley Mall
1635 River Valley Circle S, Lancaster
For more information: <http://heartofohiorcd.org/EVENTS.html>

Green Columbus, Earth Day 2010

Franklin Park Conservatory

This year's theme, 'The Update', commemorates the accomplishments of the environmental movement and highlights the challenges that lie ahead.

April 22, All day

1775 E. Broad St., Columbus
For more information: <http://parks.columbus.gov/events.aspx> or erin@greencbus.org

Cincinnati

Grow Food, Grow Hope Food Symposium

“Food and Farming for the Future: Eat Healthy/Grow Responsibly”

Featuring presentations on the impact of modern food production with an emphasis on corn, fresh and healthy food alternatives and feeding the world’s growing population in a sustainable manner.

April 22, All Day

Wilmington College

1870 Quaker Way, Wilmington

For more information:

<http://www2.wilmington.edu/news/College-to-Present-Earth-Day-Food-Symposium.cfm>

North Appalachia

Ohio University Earth Month

1 Riverside Dr., Athens

For more information about events during Sustainable Agriculture week visit:

<http://www.ohio.edu/sustainability/EarthMonth2010.htm>

