December 20, 2011 - Popcorn Palace of Schiller Park, IL, is issuing this statement to alert people with allergies to Peanuts, Tree Nuts, Milk, Soy, and Wheat that some of our 1-Gallon Value Bags contain the undeclared ingredients. Bags were shipped with the ingredient and allergen information not applied directly to the immediate container and important allergen information may not have reached the end consumer.

People with one of these allergies run a risk of serious or potential life threatening allergic reactions if they consume these products:

This notice was initiated after it was discovered that shipments did not include the ingredient and allergen information. This issue has been corrected with updated packaging that includes nutrition facts, ingredients, and allergens applied directly to every item.
