 RE: Recall Announcement (ODA/ODH) 2016-73a10

Recall For Undeclared Allergen Taken as Part of FDA's Safety Advisory Regarding Grain Craft Flour Recall

June 24, 2016 -Sanford, Florida – The Father’s Table is voluntarily recalling 2,099 cases of cheesecakes sold by Gordon Food Service through retail and food service outlets under the GFS® label as a result of a recall by one of The Father’s Table’s flour suppliers, Grain Craft. Particular lots of Grain Craft flour, used in the products listed below, may contain undeclared peanut residue. More information from the FDA about the Grain Craft recall can be found on the FDA’s website at:
<http://www.fda.gov/Food/RecallsOutbreaksEmergencies/SafetyAlertsAdvisories/ucm504002.htm>.

While those who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to peanuts run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume these products, the FDA has advised that “the amount of peanut exposure from use of the flours and affected products is low and not expected to cause adverse health effects in the vast majority of peanut allergic consumers.” The FDA has also stated that individuals who do not have peanut allergies do not need to avoid these products. The Father’s Table has received no reports of illnesses to date, from any of its products. The Father’s Table is voluntarily recalling the products below in an abundance of caution. No products other than those listed below are affected by this recall.
